NEW YORK, April 10—Poland asked the United Nations security council today to take action against the Franco regime in Spain on the ground that it already had threatened world peace and was a haven for Nazis, their assets and German scientists "devising new means of warfare."

The Polish appeal, filed by Ambassador Oscar Lange with Secretary General Trygve Lie, piled up another big political issue for the peace-enforcement body even before it had struggled out from the weight of the Iranian case. The next round in the Iranian case will come at 3 p.m. Monday, a secret meeting of council members decided today, when Russia will urge the United States and Britain to oppose prompt dismissal of Iran's complaints against Russia.

BULLETIN
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 10—The question of where the United States will make its home for the next five years came up in final discussion among security council delegates today, and mounting opposition to Russia's demand that the Iranian issue be dropped by the council.

Both the United States and Great Britain were known to be firmly opposed to any move to take the Iranian question off the council agenda before May 6, the date on which Russia and Iran are to report on the removal of Soviet troops from Iran.

Side With U. S.
Indications came from various delegations that the majority of other delegates would go along with the U. S. and Britain.

The delegates met in a closed meeting today to discuss with Secretary General Trygve Lie whether the UN would remain at Hunter's college in the Bronx, move to the Sperry Gyroscope Plant at Lake Success on Long Island, or possibly switch to some other site outside the New York area. It is up to Lie to make the selection on the meeting site, but it was understood he wanted the final opinion of the council delegates.

A United Nations spokesman said the delegates would not take today the Soviet proposal that the Iranian question be removed from the security council's agenda.

Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet delegate, who returned to the council yesterday after a 13-day boycott, was present at today's secret meeting. He had no comment on the Iranian letter.

Some Quarters.

The headquarters question prompted a lively discussion. Several delegations say privately that they are very satisfied with present arrangements for meetings at Hunter's college in the Bronx, and consideration has been given to moving to a huge modern factory building at Lake Success on Long Island.

There has been some informal talk about taking the organization away from New York, and the names of San Francisco and Geneva, Switzerland, again have entered into site speculation, though not in very serious manner thus far.

The security council yesterday received formal notice of the Russian demand for dismissal of the Iranian case when President Chou-chen of China announced he had a Soviet letter for the council's consideration and also a letter from Iran.

Transmitted by Ambassador A. A. Ali, the Iranian state did not disclose that despite the agreement on Soviet troops with Russia, oil concessions and political questions which Tehran has made with Moscow the govern-

Big Vote Seen As Jap Women
Flock To Cast First Ballots

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 10—Twenty-five million Japanese—led by a surprisingly large number of women who lined up early at polling places—today elected a postwar government in their first free election in generations.

The Tokyo vote was between 65 and 70 per cent of those eligible—slightly higher than the confused and semi-restricted 1937 election but considerably less than the 86 per cent under the Hideki Tojo coercion that marked the 1942 election.

The number of women voters exceeded expectations. In Tokyo, more than 50 per cent of those eligible went to the polls.

Many who asked for ballots were unable to vote because of mixed records and poorly coordinated registration, partially due to recent population shifts.

This led some Communist leaders immediately to demand through the Japanese press, a new election.

An incomplete, mid-morning count showed Tokyo's heaviest vote came from predominantly working class and silk stocking wards. Heavily-bombed Shibuya, where thousands still live in metal shacks, voted 70 per cent.

In nearby Hachioji, a farming community, 68 per cent of more than 33,000 eligible voters cast ballots.

Men Are Outnumbered

Women voters outnumbered the men in surprisingly heavy, early morning turnout in five rural communities near Tokyo and appeared at Tokyo's major booths in increasing numbers.

Many entered polling places with babies strapped to their backs. Others left children in impromptu nurseries. In one big Tokyo labor ward, Shinagawa, a temporary nursery was overflowing with babies by 9 a.m., two hours after the polls opened.

By 10 o'clock, 40 per cent of all eligible voters in rural Utsunomiya community had cast ballots—with women predominating. Women also were in the majority among early voters in Ashikaga, Tachikawa, Kawagoya and Miyabuchi, outside the capital. They outnumbered men four to one in Ashikaga during the first three hours.

Trend in Doubt

There was no indication of trend. First reports of the count are expected by late Thursday.

Political experts earlier had forecast victory for conservatives, but with no single party winning a majority of the 468 diet seats at stake.

Shabbily-clothed voters gathered quietly before polling places in long lines an hour before the 7 a.m. opening.

White-helmeted American military police and British patrolled steadily.

One nervously determined woman of 54 explained the ballot "means a lot to my rice and sweet potatoes. If my candidates don't get elected it surely will be sad for me."

Half a dozen women interviewed outside of polling places in waterfront, middle class residential, and silk stocking wards were positive in assertions that their husbands' preferences did not influence them.

In a more prosperous section, a husband and wife, similarly dressed western style, bicycled to the library that was a polling place. The wife shyly said she would

Students Advised Not To Make
"Superficial" Choice of Work

An assembly of 1,500 high school students from five local schools heard Horace W. Troop, professor of business administration at Otterbein college, open an all-day vocational guidance program today at 9 a.m. at the Palace theater.

The program is given annually to aid students in choosing their life's work.

Mr. Troop, introduced by E. E. Holt, superintendent of schools, told the students that in the United States a person can be whatever he wants to be if he is willing to discipline himself sufficiently to obtain his objective. He advised his listeners to look under the surface when they choose an occupation; not to make a hasty choice. To make his point, he mentioned that recruiting posters of the military vocation do not say anything about KP duty, and that an individual should have a genuine interest in whatever line he follows to enable him to tolerate its less pleasant duties.

Finally, he advised the students not to worry too much that they will choose the wrong vocation, since it is always possible to change.

Mr. Troop is well qualified to speak on vocational guidance, since he has had a wide vocational experience himself. In addition to being a college professor, he is a practicing attorney, president of a home savings company, and has had experience in politics.

After Mr. Troop's address, the

HOUSE LEADERS
PUSHING DRAFT
EXTENSION BILLCommittee Reports Bill Extending Draft for 9 Months;
Bitter Fight Expected.By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 10—The house leadership signaled today for double-quick action on a bill for straightforward continuation of the draft until Feb. 15, 1947.

Almost as soon as the house military committee decided in favor of this nine-month extension, the measure was given a preferred place on the chamber's calendar, with debate scheduled for Friday and Saturday and a vote hoped for before the weekend recess.

The present law is due to expire exactly five weeks from today—May 15.

Indications were that the bitter battle which preceded the committee's 13 to 8 extender recommendation late yesterday would be renewed on the house floor.

Supporters of continuing Selective Service viewed with concern the fact that the house will be reelected, when it comes, probably will be a roll-call and on the sole issue of extension. Many members, they believe, are fearful of voting on the record in an election year against a proposal which Army and administration have backed so strongly.

Had Sought Holiday

Some committee members had sought legislation extending the draft law for a year but suspending inductions for as long as six months. Had the committee recommended such a plan, the house might have avoided an actual roll-call on a straightforward extension as advocated by General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The draft holiday proposals, however, were turned down several times. The question of pay boosts for the armed forces was left for separate action.

The committee wrote into the draft extension bill a provision that Army and Navy monthly requisitions shall not exceed the actual numbers of men needed to

The detectives, E. J. McBee and H. L. Young of Marion, arrested Jackson and Edward L. Baker, 23, of Columbus as the pair, both Negroes, jumped off the Chesapeake &amp; Ohio Sportsman after "riding the rods" from Detroit. Baker surrendered.

Coroner J. A. Propst gave a verdict of justifiable homicide.

The incident happened on state route 23 at the south edge of Upper Sandusky, according to Deputy Sheriff Karl Stansbury, when railroad detectives caught up with the youths as they attempted to make a getaway. The pair had boarded the southbound train in Toledo.

U. S. Studies Flour Rationing
for Big Users As Wheat Fades

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—A flour rationing plan without coupon worries for housewives hung fire today as the government took another careful look into the wheat situation made tense by widespread hunger abroad.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton R. Anderson said he expected to decide during the day whether to put into effect an order requiring millers to cut their sales of flour to bakers and retailers by 25 per cent.

Should it be issued, it would have the effect of rationing supplies of flour to bakers and retailers, by 25 per cent.

Should it be issued, it would have the effect of rationing supplies of flour to bakers and retailers, but not to consumers.

Not Enough Time

Officials have explained that machinery for consumer rationing of these products could not be set in motion in time to help out during the current food crisis.

Anderson's decision may hinge on a report scheduled to be issued by the department's crop reporting board at 3 p.m. today on stocks of wheat on farms April 1.

With commercial supplies at abnormally low levels, the government and millers must look to farm stocks for the bulk of all export and domestic requirements until the new crop starts moving to market in June.

Meanwhile, fresh pressure for more wheat for hungry areas came from Director General Fiorello H. LaGuardia of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. LaGuardia planned to appear today before the combined food board—representing the United States, Great Britain and Canada—to insist that member countries allocate 350,000 tons more a month than the 275,000 tons now being granted UNRRA.

(Turn to STRIKES, Page 10)

New Measures Planned

Discussing other phases of the food problem Anderson said the agriculture department also was working on new measures designed to obtain larger quantities of meat and food fats and oils for the needy abroad and to strengthen the voluntary conservation program recommended last month by President Truman's famine emergency committee. He could not elaborate.

Now could the secretary make any estimate as to the possible duration of the flour restriction program, should it be put into effect. C. C. Farrington, director of the department's grain branch, told bakers and millers at a meeting yesterday it would be for a period of 60 to 75 days.

The inquiry group re-opened its hearings yesterday and set another public session for tomorrow.

The committee learned of the proposed warming schedule yesterday when it examined a telegram sent by the Australian minister for external affairs to the British secretary of state for dominion affairs.

The telegram was attached to a proposal British warming to Japan against any further aggression in the Pacific.

The Australian minister noted that President Roosevelt had decided to send a note to the emperor of Japan, message that actually was dispatched on Dec. 7, 1941. If there was no answer by Monday, Dec. 8, the telegram continued, the British would issue a warning to Japan, the inquiry group re-opened its hearings yesterday and set another public session for tomorrow.

30,000 Farm Equipment
Workers Affected.

By The Associated Press

One of the country's major prolonged labor disputes, a strike by 30,000 CIO farm implement workers in the International Harvester Co., the nation's biggest maker of farm equipment, was settled today.

Company and union officials, in conferences with labor department officials in Washington for the last 10 days seeking to end the work stoppage which started last Jan. 21, agreed on settlement terms today. An early ratification of the terms by the workers would enable them to return to their jobs in 11 plants and resume production of badly needed farm machinery.

Terms of the new agreement were not disclosed, but several weeks ago the company and union had agreed on an 18 cents hourly wage increase, recommended by a fact-finding board. The contract also provides a 10 per cent general wage hike retroactive to last Oct. 1.

GORDON R. FOUST DIES AT HOSPITAL

Accidental Poisoning in Iowa Causes Death.

Gordon Richard Foust, 32, 123 Ballantine avenue died in City hospital about 7 a.m. today after an illness of two weeks. He suffered from extreme poisoning which resulted from accidental poisoning of an unknown type, Marion physician stated today.

While working with a railroad gang in Iowa, Mr. Foust became ill and came to the home of a daughter here about two days ago. He was admitted to the hospital Saturday. Onions being at the railroad camp became ill at the same time, and it is thought a poison accidentally mixed into food was the cause. Further tests to determine the exact nature of the poison are being made, the local physician said.

Pontiac Tied Up

A strike by 87 AFL bus drivers and mechanics employed by the city bus lines in Pontiac, Mich., sharply cut off public transportation for the city's 67,000 residents. The strike, stemming from wage dispute, followed an early morning meeting of members of the AFL Amalgamated Bus Drivers union.

Local President Ralph Mapley and the walkout was against the recommendation of the union's executive board which had proposed a delay until next month. Mapley said the strikers demanded wage increases from 82 cents to $1.30 hourly for maximum pay. In Camden, N. J., John J. Hogan, international vice president of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said the general executive board had approved assessment of 175,000 CIO members in 46 shipyards to build up a strike fund in the thirteen-day walkout of 75,000 employees in 18 of the nation's shipyards.

YOUR HEALTH By HERMAN BUNDSEN, M.D.

Troublesome Irritation

Ointment

Itching around the lower opening of the bowel may not be an indication of serious disease but it can be a troublesome, nuisance-making ailment and irritating in the extreme. Not only is it one of the most frequent of all afflictions of this area of the body, but occasionally one of the most difficult to treat.

Because in many instances it is impossible to find the cause of the trouble, treatment for the most part is devoted to the use of such substances as will relieve the itching. For example, ointments, lotions and the injection of pain-relieving substances or anesthetics have been employed. X-ray treatments have also been used.

Doctors Lynn J. Boyd and Evans Bellows of New York have suggested using an ointment made of linoleum and cholesterol with cetyl alcohol. In addition, it contains witch hazel, tannin and ephedrine. It would seem that an ointment of this type permits easy absorption of the substances and these substances in turn aid in relieving the itching. Anesthetics such as benzocaine and chlorbutanol also may be included in such preparations.

In a number of patients who used the ointment, relief was obtained often over a period of months. It was found that the patients who improved most were those who also had some form of ringworm infection of the skin around the lower opening of the bowel. Hence, it would appear that some substance might also be included in the ointment which would tend to get rid of the fungous infections.

Antiseptic Substance

The proper concentrate of benzocaine should be employed since an excessive amount will be irritating. It is also a good plan to include in ointments used for pruritis ani, as this condition is called, some anti-septic substance to aid in overcoming germ infections which may be present.

Of course, a physician must supervise this type of work.

In every instance of this disorder, it is important to have a careful study made to determine if some condition may not be present which aids in producing the itching, for example, hemorrhoids or perhaps colitis and diarrhea.

On the other hand, it will be found that in most instances there is no disorder present to account for the itching. In these cases, the use of an ointment which allows the anesthetic present in it to be easily absorbed or taken up and also deposits antiseptic substances on the skin, will be helpful in giving temporary relief.

GIRL'S FATAL PLUNGE
LISTED AS SUICIDEBy The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Pretty, blonde Virginia Hepburn, whose body clad only in panties, was found on a hotel balcony after a gay weekend, apparently had succeeded in a third attempt at suicide. Police Inspector Alvin Corrada said today.

He ascribed to the 21-year-old girl, who plunged in darkness yesterday from a seventh-floor room to the balustrade of the balcony, a strange, eventful career including two unsuccessful efforts to kill herself, an escape from a hospital for the insane and arrests for intoxications.

Corrada identified Army Lieut. H. A. Blankenship of Atlanta, Ga., and Bellaire, O., as the occupant of the hotel room from which the girl fell and quoted him as saying he woke and found her in the room, that she ripped off her clothes, threatening to jump, and leaped before he could prevent her.

The coroner estimated Miss Hepburn had been dead six to eight hours when the broken body was discovered by a passer-by yesterday.

Corrada said the hotel room was littered with bottles and that Miss Hepburn and Blankenship, and another Army officer, Lieut. Steven Ondrusch of Binghamton, N. Y., had made the round of night clubs during the past weekend.

English War Bride
Flees Cabin Life,
Seeks Divorce, JobBy The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 10.—A 16-year-old English war bride, who said she became disillusioned with life on a farm in Salisbury, N. C., and left her ex-soldier husband after spending only a day with him, was in New York today seeking a job and a divorce.

The girl, Mrs. Evelyn Caroline Poston, left Salisbury last Wednesday and was found yesterday by police in a mid-Manhattan hotel.

Detective John Leffler quoted her as saying she left her husband after finding he lived in a one-room cabin with few conveniences. She told police she did not want to return to her old home in Cricklewood, England, where she was married last Oct. 20. Rather, she said, she wanted to get a divorce and find a job and stay here.

Leffler said Mrs. Poston told him she had been under the impression when she was married that her husband was a wealthy man. She said she had known Poston, a former ground crew corporal with an Eighth Air Force bomber group, for a year before they were married.

Refused to Quit
Mme. Richards said last December that people who were interested in the operation of these houses had offered her 1,000,000 francs (about $8,500 at the present depressed rate of the franc) if she would "drop this whole business." But she refused to quit, and now has her reward in the new bill.

France has made a wise and timely move, but there are many other countries which will have to follow suit, and quickly, if Europe is to be saved from a lot worse than that with which she already is afflicted. The moral decay has struck deep.

New French Blow
at ProstitutionBy DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The French constituent assembly has made the sensational move of approving a bill for the suppression of prostitution in metropolitan France, thus striking a heavy blow at one of the forces most destructive to the moral fibre of chaotic Europe, for the old world is experiencing a plague of sexual immorality and its attendant disease which far exceeds anything it ever has known before.

Immorality is a by-product of every war, but the Hitlerian conflict differed from others in that the evil Nazi teachings encouraged it both at home and abroad. The author taught German girls that it was a patriotic duty to the fatherland to have illegitimate children to provide more soldiers. And in some conquered countries the Nazis conducted DeWitt Mackenzie's regular campaign of interbreeding, so as to introduce German blood.

It was all as coldly calculated as that. And naturally when such a code has been accepted, outright prostitution becomes easy for dulled consciences. Thus we find that large sections of the populations in many parts of Europe have abandoned restraint and that even young girls who haven't yet reached the ranks of the professional.

France Leads Way

France is one of the first countries to take constructive action to deal with this evil. The move is all the more striking in that legalized houses of prostitution have been permitted since 1877 and there are now some 3,000 in operation, doing a business which runs into millions. Paris alone has 6,000 registered prostitutes, who have been responsible for increasing venereal disease.

The new law not only contemplates the closing of all houses of ill repute within six months, but campaigns against white slavery and venereal disease are to be inaugurated. Measures also are to be taken for the reduction and rehabilitation of prostitutes. In order to make a clean sweep the law provides heavy penalties for cafe and hotel proprietors who allow their premises to be used by prostitutes.

The crusade which has culminated in the new French law was begun last autumn by Madame Marthe Richards, a Paris municipal councillor who won fame as a spy in the first World war.

Refused to Quit

Mme. Richards said last December that people who were interested in the operation of these houses had offered her 1,000,000 francs (about $8,500 at the present depressed rate of the franc) if she would "drop this whole business." But she refused to quit, and now has her reward in the new bill.

Hawaiians Dominate in Boston Finals Tonight.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, April 10—Four Hawaiians, who abandoned their keen personal rivalries in the interests of team play, will revert to them again with lusty vigor in the opening bouts of the National AAU championship boxing semi-finals and finals tonight at the Boston Garden. Three Ohio sluggers also remain in the running.

The Hawaiians are 112-pounders Yoshi Miyamura, David Buna, Baldwin Okamoto and Walter Chung, who have exchanged many a blow back home on their islands. That quartet swept last night's quarter-finals competition in the title tournament and, as a result, Hawaii is assured of at least one national champion-ship victory.

The Hawaiian team, making its first start in the nationals since 1940, also placed representatives in two other divisions. Tsuneshi Maruo in the 118-pound class and Robert Takeshita as one of the last four remaining 147-pounders.

The Buckeyes are led by Charlie Lester of Cleveland, the lone defending champion in the starting field of 172. Heavyweight Lester appeared in danger today. Looming in his path was Fred Womery, a full-blooded Indian from Oklahoma City, Okla., who provided the three-day event with its only major upset when he gave highly and widely touted Grady Welch, Cincinnati Negro fighter, with the Hawaiians, a lusty beating.

Lester's fellow-Buckeye title hopes are Wallace Smith of Cincinnati, fighting in the 118-pound class, and John Tucker of Columbus, in the 175-pound bracket.

Lester knocked out Jim Vaughn of Norfolk, Va., in the opening round last night to gain his semi-final berth. Tucker outpointed Bobby Vowelles of Utica, N. Y., and Smith decisioned Ralph H. of Hanford, Calif.

Seven other Buckeye batters fell by the wayside in the quarter-finals slugging.

$250 a game. That didn't seem enough to Johnson, so he went to Dan Topping of the All-American Yankees. Topping offered him $350.

Things were looking up for Johnson so he tried another trip, and Topping went to $550. Collins moved it up to $650, and Topping for Washington's opener. Next came back with $750 and a $500 bonus for signing. That gesture put Johnson in the All-American Club. The club was the first in the majors to report a sellout for the season's inaugural.

ERIE HEAD FORESEES 1946 AS CRITICAL

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 10.—Robert E. Woodruff, president of the Erie Railroad Co., told the annual meeting of stockholders Tuesday he thought 1946 would be one of the most critical in the railroad's history but the worst part of it would be over in the first six months of the year.

He added he was optimistic about prospects for 1947. He referred to the steel and coal strikes as handicapping operations in Erie's highly industrialized territory.

Woodruff told the stockholders the railroads planned to file next Monday with the Interstate commerce commission a petition for higher freight rates in varying amounts depending upon the type of commodity. He said a percentage increase will be sought, he said, adding that the varying increases would maintain rate differentials between the different sections of the country.

Easter Program Given

at New Bloomington

NEW BLOOMINGTON — The first and second grades presented an Easter program at the school Friday, directed by Mrs. Sherry. Parents and the entire student body were present.

LaRue and Meeker Youth Fellowship were guests at a meeting at the Methodist church Friday night. Doris Miller, president of the Meeker council, presided. Lessons and devotions were given by Roberta Smith, Dolores Alexander and Norma Jean Anderson of Meeker. The girls of the New Bloomington church sang, poems by Pat Alexander of Meeker and a talk by Rev. G. C. Nutter. Betty Hoopes of LaRue was in charge of reception. Refreshments were served by the local council.

Richard Dutton, son of H. Roy Dutton, accidentally shot his hand at the Art Gibson home of near LaRue where he was spending the weekend. He was taken to the office of Dr. Richard Districk of LaRue and later removed to the City hospital, Marion, where it was necessary to operate to remove the shot. He is a sophomore in the local school.

Ashley Auto Plunges Into Scioto River

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—Pfc. Robert Garrison and Billie Frey of Ashley escaped serious injury when their car, sideswiped by another, plunged into Scioto river and ran about 15 feet before it was stopped Sunday. The water was about two feet deep where the car entered, near O'Shaughnessy Dam.

When Lloyd Westbrook of Ashley stepped on an ax blade which was leaning against a wall Sunday, the sharp edge cut through his shoe and the side of his right foot.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GAREISON

There was a murmur in Katharine's voice which made Dicky and me keep our eyes carefully averted from both her face and Jack's.

For we knew, I even better than Dicky, what a crucifixion was Katharine's thwarted motherhood, and how her maternal love had found a certain release in caring for our little daughter. She had not left that she dared bring a child into the world with the inheritance of her husband's war-shattered nerves. Then had followed her long absence in South America, and their arrangement, due to the machinations of Ruth Hayes, sister of Jack's mining partner.

Now, in their otherwise blissful reconciliation, they faced the fact that they were well past their youth, and that many other objections to parenthood presented themselves. And I was sure that Jack's mental suffering exceeded Katharine's, for he had the burden, spared to her, of knowing that his own crudity had been to blame for the latter part of their long separation.

S. LAUNCHES PEACE DRIVE

Plans April 25 Paris
Parley; Argentina Favor
Again Sought.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The United States threw its diplomatic weight today behind a drive to end peace for much of Europe.

In brief, is the situation:

Barring unexpected developments, Secretary of State Bevin will meet in Paris April 25 in a Foreign Ministers Molotov of Russia, Evin of Britain and Bidault:

TERMITES

FRANKLIN
EXTERMINATING SYSTEM
Columbus, Ohio

dault of France in a critical session which may determine when the projected 21-nation European peace conference can begin.

At stake in turn are final treaties which will permit full restoration of sovereignty to the European countries once allied with Nazi Germany—Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland.

America—This country, in effect, is extending the olive branch to Col. Juan D. Peron, Argentina's "strong man" and president-elect. The gesture is a bid to end two years of intermittent bickering and restore hemisphere solidarity backed up by a Pan American defense treaty.

To Work on Deadlock

Bynes disclosed these new developments at a news conference late yesterday.

He announced that Molotov and Bevin had accepted his suggestion that Big Four foreign ministers meet in Paris some two weeks hence in an effort to break the present deadlock over drafts of proposed peace treaties. Bidault is expected to follow suit.

Then Bynes issued a statement which said the United States would "welcome" Argentina's participation in the Pan American defense treaty if the Peron government would fulfill its hemisphere commitments, including its pledge to eliminate "Axis influences."

Small Fry Stalemated

Persons close to Bynes said he considers the approaching Paris trip one of the most important missions he has ever undertaken.

The deputy foreign ministers, who have been working on treaty drafts in London for two months, appeared stalemated on such touchy issues as the Italian-Yugoslav boundary dispute and disposition of the former Italian colonies.

Those matters apparently will have to be disposed of at the Big Four Paris meeting if they are to be resolved at all.

Senate Seeks Atom Formula

Trys To Protect Secrets With out Hampering Control Discussion.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Eleven senators buckled down Tuesday to the task of erecting a defense around atomic energy secrets without raising a barrier to discussing of domestic control policies and administration.

Chairman McMath (D-Conn.) described this as the "most difficult job" his special atomic energy committee has had to tackle.

The committee is working on the draft of a domestic control bill which would permit a proposed commission to prescribe such regulations governing the dissemination, publication, transmission and communication of, and the unauthorized acquisition of, information relating to atomic energy as the commission deems necessary.

Presidential approval would be required to put the regulations into effect. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) a committee member, said an effort would be made to revise this and other sections of the bill to chart as clearly as possible the exact area in which the dissemination of information would be barred.

As the measure stands, "willful" violations of the commission's regulations would be punishable by a maximum $10,000 fine and five years in jail. Violations made with intent to injure the United States or aid a foreign nation would have maximum penalties of $20,000 fine and 20 years in jail.

The Michigan senator said he does not interpret the information control sections of the bill as bearing legitimate criticism of operations or policies of the proposed commission.

The pending bill says the dissemination of scientific and technical information "should be permitted and encouraged so as to provide that free interchange of ideas and criticisms which is essential to scientific progress."

It proposes that information on the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes "be shared with other nations on a reciprocal basis as soon as effective and enforceable international safeguards against the use of such energy for destructive purposes have been established."

Sen. Taft Proposes Huge Gift to Britain

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed today a $1,250,000,000 gift to substitute for the $3,750,000,000 British loan.

Taft said he had no doubt that the Senate banking committee would approve the loan-authorizing legislation today. But he added he would offer his substitute when the measure reached the Senate floor, possibly next week.

Taft contended that $1,250,000,000 the British loan represented deficits the British expected to have in their trade with this country this year and in 1947 and 1948. He said the remaining $2,500,000,000 would finance British settlements of British trade deficits with other countries in the so-called "sterling bloc."

Propose Game Law Changes

Recommendations in Ohio game laws were made at a meeting of the Marion County Wildlife Conservation committee last night in the common pleas court room of the court house.

Changes asked for will be taken to a meeting of the Fifth Conservation district to be held in Columbus early this summer where final recommendations will be consolidated and finally presented to the state conservation commission.

Briefly the recommendations were made by the committee last night were as follows: 1. Establishing a uniform squirrel season throughout Ohio, starting on Sept. 22 and running up to 15 days depending upon the desires of individual districts; 2. Shortening the rabbit season to run from Nov. 15 to Jan. 1; 3. Changing the duck season so that Ohio will fall into the intermediate zone instead of the northern zone, thus making the season open later when there are more ducks in Ohio; 4. Continuing the fox bounty for the present fox law which provides that fox may be killed in any season. The present law expires on March 31, 1947; 5. Changing the trapping season to open at 12 noon instead of 6 p.m. on the opening day to enable trappers to have their traps set before dark.

The committee also studied the other Ohio game laws and recommended that continue unchanged. They included the pheasant, Hungarian partridge and grouse seasons, the raccoon, mink, muskrat, opossum and skunk laws and the deer season.

The committee reelected John Jolley of Marion as its chairman.

Mrs. Holloway was reelected chairman; Mrs. Donald Grimm and Mrs. Woodall, vice chairman; and secretary, and Mrs. Marvin Weston was elected treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed include Mrs. Taylor, gift box; Mrs. Donald Tower and Mrs. O. L. Mosier, work chairmen; Mrs. Grimm, literature; Miss Durfee, membership; Mrs. C. G. Candidate Charred with Calling Hirahito "That Guy."

TOKYO, April 10—Japanese fudiciary, which has been pussyfooting carefully through interpretations of civilian rights in occupied Japan has been brought up short with the question "May the emperor be referred to as 'that guy'?"

Likewise puzzling are the questions. May the empress be called "that guy's wife" and the crown prince a "brat"?

Kyodo news agency reported the royal family had been so termed by Kenichi Ito, Commis-itan candidate for the diet, in a campaign speech.

A shocked police official heard the references, Kyodo said, and asked the public prosecutor for a ruling. The prosecutor asked the supreme court, and the court, with no one to ask, is pondering.

OPA Lifts Controls on Variety of Items

WASHINGTON, April 10—The office of price administration has removed price controls from several hundred items which it described as for personal, household, office and professional use.

Items range from fly swatters and canes to hypodermic needles and syringes, soa's pillows, soda fountains and dentures.

Controls were removed from "gang and power lawnmowers" but not from the ordinary householder type of mower, and were taken off "ladders (except step ladders).

In another order OPA took price controls off electrical machine tools, processing machinery, construction equipment, transportation equipment and miscellaneous items.

Vic Donahey

ACCORDING to the rule that ability in politics
is gauged by the highest office held, Vic Donahey would be remembered as an Ohio senator during the era of Democratic power under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But most Ohioans will reject the rule, preferring to remember the qualities that made
"Honest Vic" Donahey a three-term governor of this state when Democrats had to pull their votes the hard way. His senatorship was an antecedent in one of the most extraordinary triumphs of political astuteness Ohioans have witnessed.

His career as governor and later as one of his party's wisest heads has been studied admiringly
by many, always with the same conclusion.
It was based on his personal ability to command confidence. He rarely made a speech. When he did speak, he was brief. But few politicians of his generation were so blessed with the symbolic attributes that people admire in public figures. With Calvin Coolidge, Vic Donahey shared something which most psychologists call the common touch. People believed in these men because they reflected the people themselves. Ohio politics was brightened by Mr.
Donahey's many years of service to his party and to the public. His death at the age of 72 is a reminder to those who remember his rise in the days of World War I and the years afterward that their generation soon will be gone.

A Clear Case of Murder

THE League of Nations, which would have been 26 years old this year if World War II hadn't killed it, is being formally interred at Geneva. On one point there should be no misunderstanding that the League of Nations was murdered. It did not die a natural death.

It was murdered by governments that betrayed their peoples. No population wanted another war, but despots wanted it and arranged to get it. One of the first obstacles was the League of Nations. It was not formidable, but something had to be done about it.

The war-makers reasoned that if they withdrew,
thereby signifying intent to violate the principle of collective security, other governments would be too confused, too cowardly and too frightened to do anything. That was what happened. The war-makers killed the League and not a hand was raised in its defense.

Now there is a new League of Nations with a new name. Collective security is being tried again. There are high hopes, not quite so high as the hopes of 1919 and thereafter, but high enough to seem exalted beyond any possibility of challenge. This time the governments are not going to betray their peoples. This time there will be no war-makers, only peace-makers.
The League of Nations is dead, long live the League of Nations.

Holding the Line

CONGRESSMEN, who have been urged by a quintet of executive spokesmen to hold the line against inflation, must be as puzzled
as the congressmen's constituents about this whole credo of holding the line.

The way it works is that congressmen are asked to take responsibility for legislation they know is going to be unpopular, but while they are "holding the line" at the risk of their political welfare executive agencies are making bulges in the line for the sake of their political welfare. The breakdowns in national stabilization that are threatening to cause uncontrollable inflation are not due to anything that congress has or hasn't done, but to the executive department's efforts to give everyone what he wants.

This is the third anniversary of the holding-the-line policy, under which wage earners have scored consistent increases in hourly rates and take-home pay. It is the third anniversary of a talking point which has concealed billions paid out in subsidies and largely in concealing general price increases granted by executive order to compensate for general wage increases also granted by executive order. Yet congress is exhorted by executive spokesmen to hold the line against inflation.

An air of unreality which finds spokesmen for the Truman administration saying one thing and doing another has become the chief characteristic of Washington statements. The only line they are really holding is the political line,
and they don't seem to be too sure of that.

Petty Cash

ONE of the ingenious suggestions for financing
the war—by voluntary contributions, instead of bonds serviced out of future public income—has been applied literally, if accidentally, by the holders of $23,000,000 worth of savings bonds which have matured and $13,000,000 worth of World War I securities never redeemed.

Out of the billions of dollars' worth of bonds
sold for World War II, many millions will accrue to the treasury by default. While relatively they will be petty cash, they will embody a possibility that has intrigued many students of public finance. With debt service now costing taxpayers more than a billion dollars a year, they may comprehend that in the long run it would be cheaper to pay as they go.

Some Errors Made in Evaluating President's Speech.

WASHINGTON, April 10—Mr.
Truman has a faculty of making the sensational appear to be commonplace. His Army day dictum was popularly (and erroneously) written off as a re-hash of his old policies. The people thought his first of a Mid-East war-break was calculated to build up wind pressure for war department appropriations which will be coming along in a few weeks (the budget is now working on the figures). Congressmen surmised he was trying to crowd them into action on his unification, draft and bomber bills which have been lagging. The Republicans criticized him a little on this, but his Democratic leaders did not comment.

The President intended his speech to be more than this. Newsmen were tipped privately in advance that it would be most important. All radio networks were lined up to carry it as a major address.

It was, in fact, a declaration of a strong new foreign policy, which could be summed up as one official recently quoted in this column summed it up, in one sentence, "If we are going to protect small nations, we had better start protecting them."

Demands Respect

In the face of Russian revolutionary progress in Iran, and its threats against Turkey and Iraq,
the President demanded respect for "the sovereignty and integrity of the countries of the Near and Middle East" against "coercion or penetration." On that very day, the government, people and press
of Turkey were shouting high about the arrival of the U. S.
battleship Missouri in Turkey with

Grounds for Excommunication?

The difficulties which former servicemen are experiencing in making the transition back to civillian life are almost unbelievable.

In Kansas, a returned Army chaplain preached his first sermon out of uniform—and didn't take up collection.

The startled congregation couldn't make up its mind whether it was just an oversight or the materialization of the long-heralded
free salvation.

Not take up a collection? This was some strange and unorthodox doctrine.

Not take up a collection? It was if John L. Lewis had demanded a decrease in pay for his mine workers.

It developed, of course, that he had merely forgotten. What could you expect after so long in the Army where everything was government issued?

Discharges need more preparation for the readjustment to the rigors of civilian life. Chaplains must be taught the new watchword. "Praise the Lord and pass
the collection plates."

Waste Space to Save Face

Japanese War Prisoners Write Official Secrets.

By DUANE HENNESSY

TOKYO—Upper crust Japanese are putting their secrets into thousands of pages of writing as they await their war crimes trials.

"They're the writingest bunch of people I've ever seen," said Col.
Robert M. Hardy of Yankton, Wash., commandant of grim Sugamo prison.
"They're at it from morning until night."

The men of cravat-wearing Japanese conquerors—ex-Premier Hideki Tojo, Lt. Gen. Kunio Koiso, chief of state, Lt. Gen. Kunio Koiso, chief of state, and former premier and the rest—are preparing their defenses against Allied charges of dragging the world into the Pacific war.

Hardy said the approach of the trials has no apparent effect on the daily lives of the prisoners. Their day begins at 6 a.m., lights go out at 10 p.m. Each man cleans his own cell, helps clean the cell blocks and obtains his food in a closed line.

The pinup girl of the prison currently is Lana Turner, because her picture was the cover on a screen magazine just distributed.

"Most of the prisoners can't read English," Hardy explained,
"but give them one of those magazines and they spend all of their spare time going through it from cover to cover. Almost all have Japanese-English dictionaries and they have a great time trying to figure out words and sentences.
But most of all they like to look at pictures—like Lana's."

A separate cell block contains former prison camp commanders and guards convicted of atrocities
by U. S. Eighth Army war crimes commission in Yokohama. Already five are in the death row.

It was Saturday, April 10, 1926.

Carmi Rorick, 26, section foreman for the Big Four railroad at Caledonia, was killed and Burri Burkholder, 50, and Emmanuel

were injured when the railway motor car on which they were riding clashed into a similar car on the track at Slick's station five

as critical.

Former Mayor M. L. Buckley

Seventeen prisoners escaped

The Way Matters Stood

Politically it was a time when congress, except on matters of foreign policy, had little love for the administration. Republicans were confident that Roosevelt would never run again and that the Democrats could bring forward
no man who could beat them in 1948. They were just marking time, lining up with insurgent Democrats whenever possible, to make the New Deal domestic program look sick.

Yet no man ever took over as chief executive with more whole-hearted support of the nation.

And in the weeks that followed,
President Truman delighted the nation. Moving cautiously but with a firmness that measured up to the responsibilities heaped upon him, he marched out to carry on the program, foreign, domestic and military that he had inherited.

At the end of his first year in office, Mr. Truman has made almost a clean sweep of Roosevelt's wartime cabinet.

There is only one cabinet member left who has been identified with the New Deal from the beginning—Secretary of Commerce
Henry A. Wallace, who presumably can, and will string along as long as he wishes with the Truman administration. There is one other who was in the cabinet when Roosevelt died—Navy Secretary James Forrestal—and it's common talk that he may be returning soon.

Secretary of State James F.
Byrnes and Treasury's Fred M.
Vinson had been given positions

DRAINED OFF

Truman's First Year

Cabinet Bare of Leftovers

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, April 10—At 7:09 p. m., April 12, 1945, while a stunned nation still was trying to absorb the shocking

news of the death of President Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman became President of the United States.

As for the army program of the moment.

Few men in our history have been so rapidly catapulted to such political heights, even by the death in office of our Chief Executive. Certainly none with so meager a political background has ever been asked by fate to shoulder such overwhelming responsibilities to his nation and to the world.

A year before, Harry S. Truman was vaguely known to the nation as a senator from Missouri who was doing a dandified good job as head of the senate committee keeping the war industries in line.

A couple of months later, his nomination as running mate in President Roosevelt's bid for fourth term caused about as many queries of "Who's Truman?"
as statements of approval.

As vice president for a little more than three months, he was not bumbling Throttlebottom, but neither did he show any promise of political strength or administrative wisdom.

Looking back beyond his senatorial years, his background was no different from that of a few million other modestly successful Americans. In fact, it was more meager than most in accomplishment until he found his place in the senate.

This then was the man who stepped into the presidency while the United States was still fighting
a global war on two fronts
with a vast industry totally committed to all-out

U.S. Cuts Down on Price Rises

Wage Board Allows Only Part of Pay Raises in Boosting Costs.

— The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 10.—The administration underscored its "no-nos" a "break" description of new wage policy Tuesday by noting that only part of a recent pay raise justifies a price rise.

The dairy companies argued their 18-cent figure was consistent with the general pattern of post-war pay adjustments in the Detroit area, specifically in the automobile and steel industries.

But the wage board declared only 10 cents of the increase could be used by the dealers in fitting to OPA for price relief.

The wage settlement ended a 10-

"SCREEN TOUR" PICTURES SHOWN TO NATURE CLUB

Audubon Society Representative Given Talk.

A symphony of the great American wilderness presented in colored motion pictures provided an educational and entertaining evening for members of the Burroughs Nature club and patrons of the club's Audubon Screen tour series Tuesday night at Hotel Harding. Speaker for the evening was Bert Harwell, western representative of the National Audubon society.

A ranger in the Yosemite for many years, he has studied nature on desert and in mountains, along the strand and in marshes. A born whistler, he interprets his pictures with almost magical accuracy. He prefaced the showing of his pictures with a half-hour of bird imitations playing his own piano accompaniment. These included MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" and "Indian Love Call," and of government stationery he used by prisoners for their correspondence.

Congressional investigations stemmed on his story at the outset of their inquiry into the recent escape of two condemned players from death row in Alcatraz jail, which booted to 573 the number of prisoners who fled state penitentials since 1933.

The fireworks on district jail life were provided by Howard B. Gill, suspended as prison superintendent after a series of escapes a few months ago.

Gill testified before a special business meeting of the Timely Topics club was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Franklin Craun. Mrs. Ray Debolt, vice president, presided. A paper, prepared by Miss Miriam Sayre, was read by Mrs. Charles McFarland.

The J. D. club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Roy Crawford.

The children were found to be in good physical condition, the health commissioner said. About 75 students of the school were given diphtheria immunizations.

Next clinic will be held Thursday at the Clarendon school. Miss Ridenden and Miss Rita Hut will assist Dr. Sifrit with the examinations.

News of High Life in Washington Jail Stirs Up Congress

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Congressmen blinked in amazement today at lurid descriptions of what life had been like in the "big house," less than two miles from the capitol.

They heard that inmates of the District of Columbia jail had run business ventures from their cells, imported liquor by the case for gambling parties and even entertained out-of-town models on occasion.

They also received further sworn testimony of prisoners being permitted to leave for business appointments in one of the city's most exclusive hotels, of "lavish upfits of sordid jail officials" and of government stationery being used by prisoners for their correspondence.

A luncheon was served by Mrs. Walraven at the close of the meeting.

A luncheon was served by Mrs. Walraven at the close of the meeting.

The fireworks on district jail life were provided by Howard B. Gill, suspended as prison superintendent after a series of escapes a few months ago.

Gill testified before a special business committee yesterday that the goings-on he related had taken place before he became superintendent but that he had obtained the details in a 100-page memorandum from an inmate. He said his predecessor, Ray L. Huff, knew what was happening but "hushed up" the story. Huff now district welfare director, denied that to reporters.

Letter Left with Foundling Reveals Tale of Tragic Love

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The letter, a daughter of the mother, a daughter of the man in love with a man in the service. Her parents object to marriage, because of religious differences. She wanted to get married, "for fear he wouldn't come back." And he didn't.

But the mother, tell the letter, as she did in a letter left with three-week-old Johnnie in a box at St. Mary's Catholic church, "in an envelope marked from it may concern," follows:

Dear People:

I hope that some day I will be forgiven for this act I am doing. But I will try to explain to you so you will know why I am doing this.

I was born and raised in a town south of here and was brought up as a Catholic. About two years ago I met and fell in love with a fellow who was then in the service. He was of another faith and my parents would not consent to a marriage.

He was getting ready to ship out and I wanted something that would hold us together. I wanted to add a son of his, for fear he would not return. As things came out, he did not come back. There is his son.

My family will not help me because I am not married, and have nothing to raise a child on. So I am asking your help, and see that this boy is put in home and taken care of as he could be. And I hope he never knows how he started out in life. He is just a few weeks old, so please care of him since I can't do it myself. Remember, he is wanted, and not just some thing that happened because a couple of kids didn't know better.

"Some day, if I feel I can take the consequences, I will return here and return to you in person."

"I hope you will say a prayer for my son. I know I shall pray for him every day as long as I live."

"Thank you kindly and God bless you always for you're all being so good. A sad and depondent mother."

"F. S. He eats every four hours—10, 2, 6, etc."

Johnnie will be turned over to the welfare department for placement in a home, if police can't locate his mother pretty soon. And if she doesn't come back for him in a year, he'll be put up for adoption.

CHEVROLET ASKS OK ON LIGHT CAR PLANT

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, April 10—Chevrolet division of General Motors Corp. disclosed Tuesday it has made application to the Civilian Production Administration for authority to erect buildings and provide facilities to produce a new light car.

M. E. Coyle, Chevrolet general manager, said the plant will be located in the village of Brook Park and Parma, adjacent to Cleveland.

Plans for the production of a new light weight, low-priced car were disclosed several months ago by C. E. Wilson, General Motors president. The Ford Motor Co. also has announced it has such a vehicle in prospect.

Coyle said it is now anticipated that production can be started before the middle of 1947.

Details and specifications of the car, he added, will be released when the plants are ready for production.

Programs on the Air

Forrest Green of Marion, a veteran of World War II, will give the address on the Veterans of Foreign Wars "Speak Up for Democracy" program over Station WMRN Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The theme will be the mounting unemployment among veterans and the action the VFW wants taken on the matter. Mr. Green was in the Pacific area part of his service time and now resides at 229 West Columbia street.

Kate Smith, radio's pioneer "first lady," soon to reach another microphone milestone. It will be her fifteenth anniversary as a network star, all the time on CBS.

The day is May 1, the anniversary also of her birth in 1908. She started as a singer of the popular song, it often has been said, "just the way the composer meant it." Now she also is a commentator.

No particular celebration is planned, other than suitably calling attention to the date in her broadcasts. In her Friday night "Kate Smith Sings" on April 26 she plans to repeat the four tunes she did on her first broadcast in 1931.

On May 1 in her noontime "Kate Smith Speaks" she expects to do a bit of reminiscing. This program is eight years old and running five times a week.

Off the air just 13 weeks, Tom Howard's "It Pays To Be Ignorant" port of a quiz in reverse, is coming back to CBS by decision of the sponsor. It will replace "Haley & Co." script not about a vaudeville team, which had replaced it last February 1.
